

Dr Timothy Pascoe AM
Honorary Fellow of St Mark's College

Jointly with his brother Jeremy, amongst many other contributions to St Mark's, Dr Timothy Pascoe AM created the Jeremy & Timothy Pascoe Scholarship in 2011. Together they have provided annual funding for it each year since its creation, and have jointly endowed it as one of the College's largest scholarship endowments, able to provide one of our most generous scholarships. Timothy Pascoe is (like his brother) a Governor of the St Mark's College Foundation.

The Jeremy & Timothy Pascoe Scholarship is awarded to a senior student (e.g. third year returning for a fourth year) and takes into account academic performance and contribution to the College (e.g. in a leadership position). The Pascoe Scholarship has been and is very valuable in enabling later-year students who are leaders in the student community to stay in the College, and thus contributes importantly to balance and maturity in our student body.

In addition to donations for the Jeremy & Timothy Pascoe Scholarship, Timothy Pascoe has made many donations to the College for other purposes over many years, including various building projects, and for IT and for the Library. He takes an active interest in College affairs, including keeping in touch with the Head of College (as he has done with a number of previous Masters).

Timothy Lawrence Pascoe was born in October 1939. After education at St Peter's College, he was a resident student at St Mark's from 1957 to 1961 while studying civil engineering and economics at the University of Adelaide. Amongst other College activities (including College colours for debating, rowing, and hockey), he was President of the College Club in 1961. He was also active in University activities, including as a member of the Student Representative Council.

Awarded a Shell Postgraduate Scholarship, he gained a doctorate in engineering at the University of Cambridge in 1965. In 1965-67, he earned an MBA at Harvard Business School, where he received the top awards for scholastic achievement and contribution to student life.

After becoming a management consultant with McKinsey in 1967, his career over subsequent decades has principally included consultancy and strategic advice to businesses, with some significant other roles at various times: as Federal Director of the Liberal Party of Australia (1974-75) and Victorian State Director of the Liberal Party (1975-76), as Founder and National Director of ARTS (artist, research, training and support) Foundation (1977-81), and Executive Chairman of the Australia Council for the Arts (1981-84).

In January 2004, Timothy Pascoe was made a Member of the Order of Australia "for service to arts and community organisations and to the development of business strategies for advancing the arts in Australia".

His active interest in supporting arts organisations continues to this day, as does his active and generous support for the College.
